PRESIDENT OF MEXICO IS NOW OUT OF DANGER

Pascual Ortiz Rubio Wounded by Youth Following Inauguration
WIFE AND NIECE SHOT

Police Vigilance Redoubled To Guard Against Outbreaks; Conspiracy Hinted

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 6.—Quintana Roo, following the attempted assassination of President Pascual Ortiz Rubio which almost turned his inaugural day into a day of fire and blood for Mexico.

Suffering from a wound in the jaw inflicted by a shot from the revolver of a youthful Mexican fanatic named Daniel Flores, the president passed a comfortable night and was declared to be out of danger today.

Dona Josefa Ortiz Rubio, wife of the president, whose ear was tipped by a bullet from the would-be assassin when he was whipped out of a revolver and fired six shots in quick succession at the presidential car after the inauguration, was in a state of nervous collapse. Her wound, however, was not serious.

Senators Maria Roach, niece of the president, who was shot in the neck, was resting easily today. The other three who were struck by bullets from Flores' gun, Lieut. Soutones Garcia, military aide to the president, the chauffeur of the presidential car and a bystander, suffered only minor in-

GUNMAN SAYS HE SOUGHT REVENGE

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 6.—Under the stress of the third degree, Daniel Flores, would-be assassin of President Pascual Ortiz Rubio, today told the Mexican authorities he had fired six shots at the chief executive a few hours after his inauguration in revenge for the alleged mistreatment of his sister by the president's political partisans during election disturbances in Chiapas, state of San Luis Potosi.

All three were suffering from inconsequential flesh wounds. Police vigilance was redoubled today to guard against any outbreaks which might possibly follow yesterday's incident but there was no indication that the man would be incited.

Meanwhile every effort was made to ascertain what motivated Flores to commit his act. All night long he was subjected to a severe third degree by the police. Several hours after the attempted assassination seven suspects were arrested.

The police, however, have not stated definitely whether Flores' act was part of a conspiracy instigated by communists or by followers of Jose Vasconcelos, defeated candidate at the last presidential election, who wished to produce governmental chaos and civil political control.

Some officials indicated they leaned toward the latter view, inasmuch as a plot to assassinate the president, his cabinet and former President Portes Gil, was recently uncovered and attributed to Vasconcelos. Others were of the opinion that Flores' act was part of a Communist plot.

TAX PAYMENTS OVER MILLION

Time Extension for December Collection Swells County Fund

FEB. 10 FINAL DAY

Annual Publication of Delinquencies Delayed Until August

The December tax collection for Marion county passed the $1,000,000 mark yesterday, according to Bert J. Shelton, county treasurer. The total, including yesterday's collection, amounts to $1,044,736.39. Shelton stated this morning.

Feb. 10 will be the last day for tax payment in the county, according to the treasurer. In extending the tax payment time from Jan. 20 to Feb. 10 Shelton sought to give taxpayers all possible time to make their payments. The treasurer stated today that had the books been closed on Jan. 20 many taxpayers would have been forced to pay a 10 per cent penalty or have their taxes declared delinquent.

Causes of Delay
A variety of delayed circumstances tended to make the December tax collection late this year. In the first place the tax rate could not be established until after the November election, due to the number of special issues voted upon at the polls. The outcome of two of these issues affected every taxing district in the county while others of a local nature affected only the individual districts.

As a result County Auditor Earl E. Thomas was forced to wait several weeks before he was able to establish the tax rates for the 45 districts in the county. Then came the work of figuring taxes for approximately 20,000 taxpayers in the county. After this work was completed in the auditor's office the county treasurer had to prepare tax bills for all taxpayers. This required considerable time.

CALEDONIA MAN KILLED WHEN HE CRANKS CAR LEFT IN GEAR

IT'S CROOKED, SENATOR SAYS

Blaise Attacks Resignation of Taft in Talk Before Senate

DEMANDS EXPLANATION

Says Senate Should Not Approve Prearranged Appointment of Hughes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Calling on the senate to reject the nomination of Charles Evans Hughes as chief justice of the U. S. supreme court, senator Cole Blaise, Democrat, from South Carolina, this afternoon demanded that President Hoover restore William Howard Taft to the nation's highest tribunal.

Blaise amazed the senate by declaring he thought there was something "crooked" about the way in which Taft was removed and Hughes appointed to the post within a few hours.

Blaise further shocked the senate while crowded galleries listened intently by charging Taft had been "crooked" into resigning from the court. He declared he had nothing against Hughes but wished only to protest against the manner in which Taft resigned.

"I hope the judiciary committee will return the nomination of Mr. Hughes without recommendation and that the senate will pass a resolution requesting the president to reappoint William Howard Taft," Blaise declared.

"There is something crooked around here somewhere but I can't find out what it is."

"Why is it that his boy (Taft's son) is to be put in the place of Hughes' boy and Taft is getting out to make way for Hughes'?" Blaise inquired of a silent senate. "Why was it all fixed up ahead of time?"

"Why was it necessary for some one to go to North Carolina to see Mr. Taft's resignation all fixed up? I have nothing against Mr. Hughes. I am a great corporation lawyer and will take care of them. But I let Mr. Taft and if there is anything in this world I like, it is a square deal."

4 MEN BOUND OVER IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Three Face Burglary Charge. One Accused of Passing Worthless Checks

Edward Upchurch, 23, of 161 St. Clair ave., under similar charge, pleaded not guilty and waived examination, and was likewise bound over under $500 bond.

The men are accused of robbing the railroad car on Oct. 27, 1929, and taking part of the stolen goods to the home of John Conn, 27, Marion, rural route No. 3, who was fined $20 and given a 30-day workhouse sentence when he pleaded guilty to a charge of receiving stolen property.

Marcellus Jenkins, formerly of Peckskill, N. Y., that he issued several worthless checks here, was bound to the grand jury on $500 bond. He pleaded not guilty to a charge of issuing checks without funds when arrested this morning.

CRUSHES HIM AGAINST DOOR

Willis Kellogg's Neck Broken in Unusual Automobile Accident

KILLED INSTANTLY

Caught Between Fender and End of Building as Car Starts Suddenly

(Special to The Star)

CALADONIA, Feb. 6.—Willis Kellogg, 29, former resident of Marion, was instantly killed when the automobile he was cranking crashed into the open door of a shed, pinning him between the car and the door of the building. The young man's neck was broken, according to Dr. C. L. Baker, who was summoned.

The tragedy occurred about 7:30 o'clock this morning as the Kellogg family was moving from their residence at the east edge of the village, on the Cemetery rd., to their recently-purchased home at the north end of the town.

The young man was preparing to crumple a car load of pictures and other furnishings to the new home and is believed to have forgotten to throw the engine out of gear when he started to crank it after the starter refused to work. He was tossed out the fender and was unable to extricate himself before the machine crashed into the shed.

The accident was witnessed by the young man's mother, Mrs. Pauline J. Kellogg, who ran to the shed but was unable to be of any assistance. She then summoned a neighbor, Alva Rogers, who was supposed to remove the shed door before releasing Mr. Kellogg's body.

Former C. D. & M. Employee
Mr. Kellogg was born southeast of Caledonia, Oct. 30, 1900, the youngest son of Francis J. and Mary Smith Kellogg. During the family's residence in Marion, he was employed on an electrician with the C. D. & M. Co. He had resided here about two years.

Surviving with the parents are one sister, Mrs. Ivan B. Purnell, Danforth ave., Marion; three brothers, Thurman Kellogg, in Wyoming; Vernon Kellogg, Columbus, and Earl Kellogg, in Florida; one half-brother, Harry Seckel, and one half-sister, Lloyd Kellogg, Columbus.

LINDY IS COOK FOR PILOTS OF GLIDERS

Effort Will Be Made Today To Break Motorless Endurance Mark

LINDERBERGH CAMP, Cal., Feb. 6.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today was installed as camp cook at this glider headquarters, which resembles a cowboy's overnight line camp in a mountain cattle ranch.

Today from a nearby mountain peak, Harold Gossard, American glider champion, planned to take off in an effort to break the world's endurance record for motorless flights by soaring more than 17 hours. Lindbergh, a former member of New York's supreme court, declared the commission had proceeded on the "wrong track" by attempting to "curb prohibition without looking to any change in the law." He insisted the president had promised to remedy "grave abuses" in prohibition.

Wagner, a former member of New York's supreme court, declared the commission had proceeded on the "wrong track" by attempting to "curb prohibition without looking to any change in the law." He insisted the president had promised to remedy "grave abuses" in prohibition.

The prohibition law, he said, had created "abnormal confusion" and "mental chaos" in the "very highest places." Instead of really trying to remedy the situation, he added, the "mountain" labor and brought forth a mouse—and a very tiny one at that.

The president's proposal for conferring legislative powers on U. S. commissioners was described as unconstitutional by Wagner. In all he had 10 objections to this legislation.

His chief objections were: the measure would place a club in the hands of district attorneys by which accused men could be bludgeoned into places of guilty.

Paving Contractors Say Only $638 Due Drake

Deductions Made from Claim Set Up in Suit for Share of Center St. Profits; Answer and Cross-Petition Filed by Contracting Firm Today

James C. Drake's hope of collecting $2494 from G. R. Kobargher, D. L. Brady and D. C. O'Connell, contractors who constructed the East Center st. paving last summer, will quickly fade if the answer filed in common pleas court today by the contractors is sustained.

On Jan. 14 Drake filed a suit to collect $16,647 claimed to be the unpaid portion of his share of the profits of the paving job and $14,000 as rental for machinery used in the work. Drake claimed that an agreement with the contractors entitled him to one-third the net profits for supervising the construction of the street.

In their answer filed today the contractors admit that they had an agreement with Drake whereby he was to receive one-third of the profits. The answer continues, however, by stating that Drake drew $8 a day while he was employed to supervise the work. This amounted to $251.20, the answer states, and was to be deducted from Drake's share of the profits.

Claim Free Use of Tools
According to the answer all tools owned by Drake and used on the street job were to be used free of charge under the contract which gave Drake one-third of the profits.

The answer states that the contractors received $46,174.50 from the City of Marion for the street paving work. It further states that expenses amounted to $41,007.50, leaving a balance of $5,167.00. Drake's share of this amount is $1,722.33, the answer states.

The answer claims that Drake, without authority, collected $2,494 from the Columbus, Delaware & Marion Electric Co. and $2,273 from the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. for work done on gas mains and electric lines while the street was under construction.

In arranging the final settlement with Drake the contractors deducted the total of the collections from the electric company and the gas company and the amount paid the water department at the rate of $5 a day from his share of the profits.

Offer Him $638
The answer states that the total of these three items deducted from the one-third share leaves $638.00. The contractors have proffered this amount to Drake, according to the answer.

In his petition Drake claimed that the contractors dispossessed their profits in such a manner that his one-third share was reduced from $2,025.52 to $412.25. His petition states that the actual profit of the job was $3,116.17. The contractor's answer states that the profits were $1,843.17.

The answer makes no reference to Drake's claim that profits were dissipated other than to list the expenditures made in paving the street.

Among the list of tools and machines for which Drake claims rental in his petition he listed the use of a Cadillac sedan for 30 days at $5 a day. The contractor's answer claims that the machine was used only for the superintendent's personal benefit. There was no agreement whereby they were to pay for its use, the answer claims.

In a cross petition filed with the answer the contractors ask the court to make William K. Drake a brother of the plaintiff, a party defendant to the suit in that he claims some interest in the plaintiff's share of the profits. According to the answer the nature of the contract between James Drake and William Drake is not known to the East Center st. contractors.

REPORT THOMPSON TO DEFY COUNCIL

Chicago Mayor Said To Oppose Strawn Group's Rescue Stipulation

CHICAGO, Feb. 6—Chicago's ever-deepening financial trouble grew more involved today when it was indicated that Mayor William Hale Thompson plans to defy the city council's request to adopt the Siles H. Strawn rescue plan—the only plan whereby 40,000 unpaid employees hoped to obtain emergency relief.

City and county workers have gone without their pay checks for five weeks.

Added to this was the discouraging prediction of City Comptroller George K. Schmidt who stated that even if buyers are found for 1930 tax anticipation warrants through the Strawn rescue committee, the city will face another serious financial crisis July 1 when, he said, all revenue for 1930 will have been exhausted.

Mayor "Big Bill" Thompson is said to oppose the Strawn group's stipulation that only patriots and department heads regarded as "congenial" by the committee will be given a helping hand from the $50,000,000 fund pledged by large business houses.

A bigged tack to be built into a dash board has been designed for holding automobile tools where they are easy to reach.

Bucyrus Audience Sees Show by 'Home Town' Boys

BUCYRUS, Feb. 6.—The Bucyrus opera house, probably for the first time in its history, was the scene Wednesday night of a "first night" theatrical performance when "The Were Wolf" written and produced by these Bucyrus boys was presented before a capacity crowd.

Unlike most musical shows the original production combines musical and dramatic entertainment with the suspense of a murder mystery plot.

Three original song numbers are introduced in the show, "Because the Were Wolf," the opening number, "Lone Wolf," a dance number, and "You're All That Matters Now," the theme song of the play.

The show was written by James Kehrer, George Fred Kehrer, and William C. Eger, Jr., and is directed by Miss Rosemary Kehrer and Miss Margaret Beer, young sisters of the authors. Leading roles were taken by Miss Dorothy Berry, Miss Donna Cassaro, Miss Irene Jones, Robert Arnold, Robert Meyer, Lawrence Poole, Raymond Van Vorhis, James Koch, Charles Link, John Saffell, and the collaboration, the Kehrer Brother and Beer. It was under the sponsorship of Camp Thomas Post, United Spanish War Veterans. The musical numbers were supported by a chorus composed of local talent. Dance numbers were supervised by Raymond Van Vorhis who recently returned to Bucyrus after taking advanced instruction in Chicago. Others assisting in the presentation were Paul Unger, electrician, Robert Arnold, stage manager and Malcolm Koch, property man. Miss Elinor Norman, musical director of the five piece orchestra. The show will be repeated tonight.

HARDING MEETS ASHLAND, ZANESVILLE

PRESIDENTS TO SEEK SECOND VICTORY IN N. C. O. LOOP FRIDAY

Hardest Contest of Week-End Schedule Card for Star Court Saturday

HARDING high school's much desired victory over the Zanesville team tonight will be the first of the season for the Presidents. The Presidents are expected to deal out two polished defensive contests over the weekend.

Friday night the local Ashland high school will furnish the opposition for the Red and Black. The battle is looked for Ashland's Coach Star's quiet has been early pickings for everything in the N. C. O. so far this year. Shelby, Gallen, and Mansfield have won every victory.

Paper strength gives Harding the edge in the game. But the Presidents never pay attention to advance dogs. They win when they are supposed to lose and lose when they are supposed to win. Friday's fray will find the teams evenly matched.

In North Central loop games so far, Harding has displayed a slightly better brand of basketball. Offensively the Presidents rate about the same. Harding has scored 42 points while Ashland's total score is one less. Defensively Harding ranks for superior to Coach Star's quiet. The opponents of the Presidents have scored 70 points, a total of 15 less than the number of points scored against Ashland. Harding has won one league game.

Saturday night will find the Presidents taking on a tougher assignment in Zanesville. This contest will be played in Star auditorium. The preliminary game featuring the Y-Indus team of Marion will start at 7:30 o'clock.

The contest will be the first appearance of Zanesville on the Marion Court in several years. Last year the Harding quintet was given a one-sided drubbing at Zanesville.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Welker Cochran, former world's 152 lb. champion, will challenge Jake Schaefer, present champion, for a title match. Formal competition for the title has been abandoned this year but Cochran said he would demand a title match or ask that the crown be declared forfeited.

Scores of last night's Business Men's league games follow: Patton 39, Clark 14; F. Keller 40, A. Ivette 20; White 50, Kettner 8.

John Pesek, Named by N. B. A. as One of Nation's Greatest Heavyweight Wrestlers, Will Appear on Marion Mat Program

CARNERA "LOOKING" FOR TOUGH FIGHTERS

Next Time Mountain Man Appears in Big Cities Will Be Against Von Porat, Campolo or Godfrey

DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The next time Primo Carnera fights in Chicago, it will be with Otto Von Porat, the next time he fights in New York, it will be with either Victorio Campolo or George Godfrey.

So said the handlers of the huge hombre today as he and they prepared to pluck another paddy over in Second tonight, namely Cowboy Billy Owens, he called because the only range he ever rode in is the kitchen. Then, the handlers, who to intimate that Primo is becoming liked by America's lack of fighting men and lines for gory action but privately are assured that he plans three or more of these "appearances" before conceding to permit himself to become involved in anything so serious as an altercation.

As to that, the man would be a champion if he did otherwise.

For as a get-rich-quick enterprise, he has Wallingford fit to be tethered. He is averaging $15,000 a week by doing nothing constantly, and the life of Italy is a bed of cut glass, by comparison.

There are some of the figures on his racket:

Average daily receipts at Stillman's gymnasium here, of which he cuts 50 percent, $1,100.

Total for four days of training in Chicago, $1,800.

Four Chicago hotels bidding for his patronage while there.

Jack Dempsey Will Play Ghost at Boxing Match

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—The interest in ghost performers is about to be released to the world or sports when Jack Dempsey does the speaking act here tomorrow night at his Coliseum boxing show.

The old manna mauler is reported to be on his way to Los Angeles to attend to one of his coast business ventures.

Neither was Dempsey present at his last boxing show here so, say the sports bugs, he must be supporting a ghost.

Harry Ebbets and Clyde Chastain are the principals in the feature 10-round bout on Dempsey's program tomorrow night.

Skater of Norway Captures Fourth Women's Rink Title

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—For the fourth consecutive year Sonja Henie, a beautiful miss of Norway, today held the world's figure skating championship for women.

In Madison Square Garden last night the girl from the lands of the fjords was declared winner after three days of skating.

Karl Schafer won the men's figure title and the French were made happy when Monsieur and Madame Pierre Brunet, of France, were awarded the world's pair title.

Otterbein Downs Capital After 2 Overtime Periods

COLUMBUS, Feb. 6.—They came, they saw and they conquered, with the result the Otterbein basketball squad today had the scalp of Capital university tucked away by virtue of a 35-to-30 victory. The contest was not decided until two overtime periods were played, here last night.

Otterbein saw itself on the short end of a 15-to-11 score at the end of the half. Capital weakened and the end of the regulation period found the score knotted at 27 all.

Total of purses for two fights, lasting all told one minute and 57 seconds, $35,000.

Probable purse in Newark tonight, $10,000.

So, like the old circus which played its towns on the hole-in-one system because it never hoped to come back, Primo is giving the boys a lot of high-pressure business as long as they will stand for it, after which it looks as though the poor fellow will have to go to work. They told Chicago, for instance, that they would be back to fight Von Porat but forgot to say when. They have been equally vague about their intentions toward Campolo or Godfrey here and I guess this is all right, at that, for the affair is strictly a shot for the great outdoors, where a man can fall with some degree of safety.

In fact, I'm not so sure that the whole program isn't all right, so long as everybody thinks it is. The boys don't have to attend. On the contrary, they can stay away in a very marked manner and nothing can be done about it. The constitution is quite specific on this point.

As for the Newark enterprise this evening, it has been set for 10 rounds, proving that the promoters are men of vision or something. They will need plenty of vision if they see anything after the third round.

ILLINOIS MAINTAINS GRIP ON THIRD PLACE

Handicapped by Loss of Three Men, Illini Defeats Chicago, 28-25

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Feb. 6.—Illinois maintained its hold on third place in the Western conference basketball race today after defeating Chicago, 28 to 25, here last night.

The Illini, although handicapped by the loss of three sound members, managed to give Chicago its fifth defeat of the conference season. Illinois led the Maroons throughout most of the game, finishing the first half with a 13-to-13 advantage.

Captain Douglas Mills and Bud Harper, Illinois guards, scored nine points each to lead the scoring. Illinois was forced to use a changed lineup due to the inability of May, regular center.

The Purdue five still leads the conference with three victories and no defeats. Wisconsin holds second place with four victories and one loss.

Ravenna Tigerman Will Meet Glenn Wade at Steam Hoist Gym Next Tuesday Night in No-Time-Limit Match; Advance Ticket Sale Opens

ONE of the two outstanding heavyweight wrestlers, according to the recently announced championship pairing of the National boxing association, has been signed by promoter Danny Crawford for an exhibition in Marion next Tuesday night. He is John Pesek, Ravenna, Neb. tigerman.

Pesek will meet Glenn Wade of Cincinnati in the main-event engagement of Crawford's bi-weekly mat program at the Steam Hoist gym.

Crawford tips the scales at 190 pounds. Wade will enter the ring regularly over the 200-pound mark.

It will probably be Marion's only opportunity of seeing the peer of heavyweights in action on the local mat. Pesek has been matched with Jim London of Philadelphia for the N. B. A. heavyweight championship. They will meet in the near future.

Followers of the mat game say that the tigerman is the greatest mat artist of the game today. He is an expert on favorite to win the titanic crown Sonnenberg and Shikat, two other leading heavyweights, have refused to meet Pesek for the title.

Pesek will meet Wade in a no time limit bout. It is scheduled to go three falls.

The advance sale of reserved seats opened today at Markert & Lewis.

M'MAHON IS SEEKING BATTLE FOR GERMAN

Would Match Schmeling with Campolo in New York Next Summer

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Max Schmeling, of Germany, and Victorio Campolo, the Italian of the Argentine, may box in New York this summer. Jess McMahon, former matchmaker of Madison Square Garden, said today.

McMahon, who yesterday announced he had leased Ebbets field, Brooklyn, for two years, said he was negotiating for the match. Ebbets field is the home of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Ashland Collegians Lose First Home Game of Year

ASHLAND, Feb. 6.—Dud Stock, of the Kenyon capeters, today stands as the hero of a contest in which he carried his team into victory over Ashland, here last night, 39 to 29.

Ashland's Garden of Eden (their home grounds) on which they had not lost a basketball game this season, was shattered by the stellar performance of Stock who garnered 18 marks.

Promoter Crawford is preparing to take care of the largest crowd of the season. He believes that the match will rank as one of the outstanding sporting events ever brought to Marion.

CRESTLINE EASY FOR LOCAL Y-INDUS TEAM

Gillis Gets 13 Points To Lead Both Teams in Scoring Contest Ends with 35-16 Count

MARION'S Y-Indus eagles last night continued to move along in championship form and won their twelfth victory of the season by defeating Crestline, 35 to 16.

It was the second victory of the year over the Crestline aggregation. Last night's contest was exceptional.

Gillis added 13 points to his total of the year when he scored the first of the baskets and the first of the high scoring. He was in line for the Marion four baskets.

Bazely and Metzger scored but two of Crestline's points. Metzger was good for nine points while Metzger scored five. Bazely scored the other basket.

At the halfway mark the Red held a 22-to-10 lead.

Saturday night the Y-Indus are slated to play a preliminary game the Harding-Zanesville battle in auditorium. Wade, previously named as the opponent for the quarter, will not play. Efforts are now made to schedule a Columbus for the fray.

TAX PAYMENTS HERE OVER MILLION MARK

Time Extension for December Collection Swells County Fund

Time and as a result the tax collection started several days later than usual.

Up to Average

Shelton stated today that the extension of time to Feb. 10 had enabled officials to bring the total collection up to, if not slightly above, the average December collection. Had the books been closed Jan. 26 the collection would have been so much lower that the city, the county, the schools, and townships and villages would have had difficulty in obtaining sufficient money to operate this year, county officials stated today. In addition the treasurer would have been forced to attach the 10 per cent penalty to the taxes of many persons, thus adding an additional burden.

As a result of the extension of tax paying time to Feb. 10 the list of delinquent taxes will not be published this month, it was stated today. The law provides that the list be published on Feb. 3 or 10, or not until August. The list will be published next August.

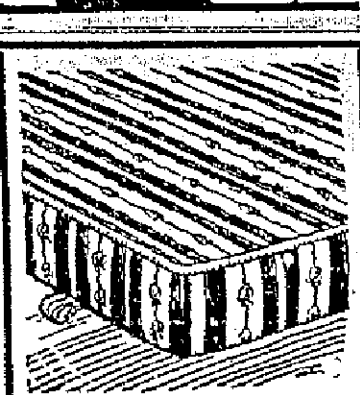

The charge on the treasurer's books for collection at this time of the year is $1,257,064.27. Since part of this represents delinquent taxes for past years the present collection is considered to be good.

GETS NEW TRIAL

Greene County Man Gets New Trial With Court Action

COLUMBUS, Feb. 6.—Gilbert Cooper of Greene County, who is serving a life term in the Ohio state penitentiary here following his conviction on a charge of first degree murder, in which the jury recommended death, will be given a new trial.

Cooper was convicted of murdering Caleb Hisebeck during an argument over animal traps near Coshocton. The appellate court upheld the jury's decision, but stated it was doubtful whether the state had proved an element of deliberation and premeditation, so the court granted Cooper a new trial, yesterday.

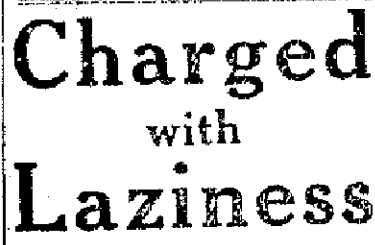

REAL ESTATE MAN BEATEN, RELEASED

Found Wandering in Connecticut Suburb After Being Held for Nine Days

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Max Price, New Haven real estate broker, who was kidnapped nine days ago by New York and Detroit gangsters for a huge ransom, was found wandering about at Fairfield, a suburb of Bridgeport, Conn., early today. He had been beaten and both his eyes were blacked and his face was bruised.

Price said he had been taken for four days by his kidnapers in a vacant house in New Haven. Last night he said he was led from the house, was taken for a long automobile ride and was told to get back to New Haven as best he could.

Price said he did not think any of the ransom demanded for his release had been paid. The elderly victim said he thought he was released because of the publicity given his abduction and that his captors feared police were about to arrest them.

Charged with Laziness

Guilty Simply of Acidity!

That persistent feeling of tiredness—that clouded mind, that lack of dash and fire, that missing punch that divides so many situations in business—are all usually due to an acid system. Excess acid, formed in the stomach as a result of our unnatural eating habits, causes acid indigestion with gas, sourness and burning and sets up poisonous putrefaction in the gastro-intestinal tract that saps our strength and vitality, taxes our nerves and pulls us down physically and mentally.

Magnesia Oxide, developed in Germany by a famous, 100-year-old pharmaceutical house, corrects acidity in the right way! Upon contact with the acid in the stomach, Magnesia Oxide generates harmless, or "active," oxygen. The "active" oxygen stimulates the alkaline gastric mucus, checks putrefaction in the gastro-intestinal canal and stimulates the activities of the intestinal walls which aids the natural movement of the bowels. All three effects are necessary to the true correction of acidity.

5-Day Acidity Test
To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxide from Bradley's Drug Store or any other good drugist. Take two after each meal for five days and see how much better you feel—how much more soundly you sleep and how much more energy you have. If you don't get more than amazing results, return the balance of the Oxide to the drugist and he will refund the purchase price promptly and in full. Adv.

GALION MAN IS HELD IN MURDER OF GIRL

Cleveland Authorities Convinced That He Is Not "Mad Masher"

CLEVELAND, Feb. 6.—Leo King, 31, of Galion, was held for investigation here today following his arrest last evening on a charge in the murder of Janet Blood, 16-year-old West High school student, who was fatally wounded last Jan. 10 by a mysterious "mad masher."

Although King readily admitted that he was in Cleveland on the night Miss Blood was shot, police authorities stated they were convinced he is not the much-sought "mad masher."

King was picked up in West Cleveland by Detective Sergeant Anthony Kory, who said he recognized in the man certain facial characteristics corresponding with descriptions of Miss Blood's assailant. A check-up, however, revealed that other points of description failed to correspond. The "mad masher" is reported to be much taller than King.

Police stated further they were inclined to believe King is slightly delinquent. They indicated he may be placed in the hands of probate court officials.

Women Plead for Peace Before Naval Arms Parley

40 "Peace Crusaders," Representing 45 Countries, Received by Four Delegates; Present Disarmament Resolution Asking That War Be Banned

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The voices of the women of the world were heard at the London naval arms conference today when a delegation of 40 women "peace crusaders," representing the women of 45 countries, were received in St. James palace by Premier MacDonald, Secretary of State Simon, J. E. Fenton, the Australian delegate, and Prof. Timothy Smiddy, the Irish Free State delegate.

The delegation was received at 10 o'clock this morning in the drawing room of the palace that was Queen Anne Boylen's in the reign of Henry VIII and has been the scene of most of the important meetings of delegates at the present conference.

Mrs. Edgerton Parsons, of New York, representing the women of America, presented a disarmament resolution to be acted upon at the conference and representatives of the English, French and Japanese women presented similar resolutions. Mrs. Parsons, in her brief speech before the four eminent statesmen representing the entire conference, declared that the American resolution represented a plea from six million American women for peace through disarmament.

Premier MacDonald, in replying to the resolutions presented by the women, declared that "no hour of the conference has been spent more profitably than this one."

He praised the work of women in the interests of peace and called them pioneers in the work of disarmament. He said he expected that the present conference would result in a good agreement among the nations and would understand never before reached. He declared the aim of the conference was to bring about a unity of peace and security which would remove all doubts and fears in the future.

"This deputation has brought an inspiring breath of fresh air into the conference," was Stimson's reply to the speeches of the women.

The general change in the attitude of the nations towards war, he said, was largely due to the efforts of womanhood.

Oldtime Melodrama Revived by Myrtle Ross Players in "The Fighting Parson" with Chin Whiskers, Red Wig and All the Other Necessities

THE MYRTLE ROSS PLAYERS go back to the old melodrama type of entertainment for this week's offering. They are doing "The Fighting Parson" with most of the players having a chance to do character work. In fact one of the eight members of the cast five do character portrayals.

And while "The Fighting Parson" seems reminiscent of the old days, of the old repertoire company offerings, in its happy enthrallment and exits, its speeches, etc., the audience like it and Jack and Jill found them looking into applause at most any time.

THE story of "The Fighting Parson" tells about a young preacher who took a school teacher into his home, gave her his protection when the village burned against her because she would not recant her past history.

Of course, he falls in love with her.

AUSTRIA AND ITALY SIGN NEW TREATY

Pact One of Friendship and Arbitration; Marks New Era in Relations

ROME, Feb. 6.—A treaty of friendship and arbitration between Italy and Austria was signed here today.

Premier Benito Mussolini signed on behalf of Italy, while Chancellor John Schober of Austria signed for his nation.

The treaty marks a new era in the relationships between these two nations, as of recent years there has been considerable friction, particularly over the nationalization policies of Premier Mussolini, which involved the education and language of hundreds of Austrian-born residents of the Lower Adige, now Italian territory.

A definite rupture of this issue occurred two years ago, when diplomatic relations between Austria and Italy were severely strained, and the Austrian parliament was split with disapproval over the demands of certain deputies that Austria resort to force to prevent Mussolini from encroaching upon the rights of the Austrian people.

The treaty provides for all future disputes to be submitted to a tribunal for arbitration.

PREDICTS SAFE AIR TRAVEL IN ADDRESS

Manager of Aeronautics Department Says Blind Flying Problem

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 6.—In a few years, will turn the safest means of transportation. That was the prediction of W. J. Young, manager of the aeronautics department of the Goodyear tire and rubber Co., in a speech before the Marion Kiwanis club today.

One of the remaining problems to be solved to insure the safety of aviation is "blind flying," according to Young, in his talk on "transportation by air."

Improvement and refinement of metals is also another feature which will be made in the next few years and which will contribute greatly to the safety of air travel.

That the huge airships, or Zeppelins, will never become widely used for short freight and passenger hauls, such as regular lines between cities, was expressed by Young, who looks to the airplane to look after that phase of air travel. The Zeppelin is better suited to longer hauls, of several hundred or several thousand miles in length, he said.

Aviation should look to the future of aviation, and provide for it in the best way possible. City officials should anticipate the importance air travel will have in the future, and take steps now to provide for its accommodation, Young said.

Young was instrumental in bringing Zeppelin experts in this country from Germany, and sold two of the huge ships to the navy department.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should try Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for cod liver—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 20 years of study. Olive Tablets are a pure vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like cod liver—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and help overcome constipation. Take nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of have sold yearly. 15c, 30c, 60c.—Adv.

More Snow Probable

Tonight, Is Forecast

Marion was surprised this morning to awaken in the midst of a snowfall that continued through the morning, covering streets and sidewalks with a blanket of white.

Cloudy and probably snow tonight and Friday, slightly higher temperatures, the official weather forecast, issued today.

The mercury varied between a high of 23 degrees yesterday and a low of 27 degrees last night. A year ago the high mark was 25, the low 31.

TAFT SEEMS BETTER BACK IN OWN HOME

President Hoover Finds Former Chief Executive Has Gained Ground

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—William Howard Taft appeared today to be responding to the mental relief of being back in his own home, and of being without the care of official duty for the first time in many years. It was in the hope the former president would rally from his present dangerous physical collapse that his doctors arbitrarily ordered him to resign as chief justice of the United States and brought him back to Washington from a three-week sojourn in Asheville, N. C. Their official bulletin in the last 24 hours seem to have justified their action, for according to those bulletins, he gained a little ground soon after being returned to his Wyoming estate, and he held it ever since.

In any event, the original reaction has lessened. The physicians do not hold out much hope for an ultimate complete recovery, for their 72-year-old patient is suffering from arteriosclerosis, complicated by a bladder infection, but the half-voiced fears of Tuesday that Taft was in the midst of a probably fatal crisis were less noticeable today.

President and Mrs. Hoover found their friend "sitting up and cheerful" when they called yesterday afternoon. The last medical bulletin issued verified the statement he was suffering virtually no pain and had been able to get some solid rest.

COMPLETE SILENCE STILL VEILS WILKINS

Base Vessel Reports It Has Not Heard from Explorer for Eight Days

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—A curtain of mystery continues to hide the whereabouts of Capt. Sir Hubert Wilkins, noted explorer, according to a copyright dispatch from the Antarctic in the New York American today.

The dispatch, sent today by Victor Olsen, wireless operator on the steamship Melville, base vessel of the Wilkins expedition at Deception Island, said that the eighth day had passed without word from the explorer, who, with three others, is on the steamship Searesby somewhere in the vast area of broken ice south of the party's base.

Efforts to signal the Wilkins' boat by radio have failed and it was believed a break in the radio equipment of the Searesby was possible. Hope was held the Searesby would answer by radio as soon as repairs to its equipment were made.

If the silence continues, Olsen said a spare whaler would be sent southward in search of the Searesby. He added the hunt for the lost explorer would be difficult, as the Melville is without knowledge of the Searesby's position.

The Searesby sailed southward in search of a runway for a takeoff for the proposed Rusa air flight across the polar cap. When last heard radio signals from the vessel were strong.

Announcement of Pinchot's candidacy will be made here Sunday by U. S. Senator Brookhart, Iowa independent. It was said when he speaks before a meeting sponsored by the American Federation of Hoosier Workers.

Getting Up Nights

Is Nature's Danger Signal—Rev. W. H. Mitchell, Jeffersonville, Ohio, says: "I feel I am doing real missionary work when I tell or write how much I am relieved of a serious case of bladder irritation with Laxative Balm (Kaiser Formula). She had to get up 6 to 8 times each night. It acts on bladder as epispasm, gets rid of poisons. Drives out foreign deposits and lessens excessive acidity. This relieves the irritation that causes getting up nights. The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores, Kaiser Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio, or locally at Walcott Pharmacy, Marion, O."

ATTENDS CONVENTION—C. F. Carroll, Jr., local representative, returned today from the annual regional convention of his organization at Detroit, Mich.

The convention was attended by 1,200 delegates and dealers, who heard factory officials discuss plans for 1930.

Doughnuts and Coffee on Menu for Opening—The Community Bakery which is to open tonight in Oakland Heights will introduce its wares to the public by serving doughnuts and coffee.

"How I Removed My Goitre"—Told in Letter Received Here—Mrs. W. C. Cox, 36 Prospect St., Delaware, Ohio, has written to the editor of the Akron Citizen, describing how she removed her goitre. "My heart and nerves were awful. At times could not stand to have anyone talk to loud. Was very weak and short of breath. The coughing and choking was terrible. Soon after beginning this treatment I was doing my own work." Mrs. Cox has nothing to sell. Everyone is invited to call and read the letter.—Adv.

This Man Puzzled—Lost 19 Pounds of Fat in 22 Days

Wants to Know Where the Fat Went to

It was fat—19 pounds of it—lost in 22 days. That is the story of Kruschen, a man who has lost 19 pounds of fat in 22 days. He is now a puzzle to himself and to his friends. He has lost 19 pounds of fat in 22 days. He is now a puzzle to himself and to his friends.

That while Kruschen feeling that means more energy—more vigor—more ambition took possession of him—he took long walks every day—and enjoyed them.

He got on the scales one evening and came home with sprightly step—“eleven pounds of fat gone” he almost howled—he danced a few steps with the aid of his wife and his wife danced with him.

Taney, twenty-eight years; Salmon P. Chase, nine years; Morrison R. Waite, fourteen years; M. W. Fuller, twenty-two years; E. D. White, eleven years, and William Howard Taft, nine years. Most of the Chief Justices died in office. On the resignation of Chief Justice Taft, the nomination of Charles Evans Hughes was announced by President Hoover.

In one of a series of programs to be broadcast over radio station WABC each Wednesday night, members of the local Eagles, No. 537, Fraternal Order of Eagles, last night heard a speech by Judge Roscoe Horubuck, of London.

John Abel, grand trustee, and secretary of the local order, will be heard over that station in an address next Wednesday night, he announced today.

Local Students Invited To Be College Guests

Nine Harding high school boys and one from LaRue have received invitations to attend the formal opening of the new $400,000 health education building at Wittenberg college, Springfield, Feb. 14 and 15. It is expected that approximately 200 high school boys from various parts of the state will be present.

Those from this locality receiving invitations are: Lowell Goodrich, Edgar Hastings, Thomas Holzer, Robert Knapp, Paul Linde, James A. Barker, Robert Cleveland, Lowell Coulter, and Merle Turner, of Marion, and Leon Parish, of LaRue. The various recreation privileges of the college will be open to the visitors. Those arriving early enough on Friday may attend late afternoon classes as guests of Blue Key, a booster fraternity at Wittenberg college which is sponsoring the week-end visitation.

If his first class doesn't make a boy sick, he is likely never to care much for toasters. He's immune.

Daily Proverb—"Seize the present day; give no credit to the succeeding ones."

Nine gang shootings, seven of them fatal in Chicago in seven days. Say what you may, the crime situation up there seems to be adjusting itself.

A prominent church organization advocates a religion that is carried into the daily life of the people. It's a bit hard to see how there could possibly be value in any other kind.

During the month of January, one Chicago judge heard 2,831 divorce motions and granted 615 decrees. Evidently there is more than her crime situation the matter with the Wicked City.

Riga reports 300 ex-navy officers, all that were left of those fighting under the flag of the old regime, executed this week by soviet Russia. Civilized peoples do not treat former enemies that way.

A former Mack Bennett bathing girl has sued Harry Richman, New York night club proprietor and entertainer, for $250,000 for breach of promise. The quarter-of-a-million-damage-suit bid for publicity seems to have become epidemic.

The British seek to include in the small-cruiser classification four comparatively new cruisers of 5,750 tons and mounting seven-and-a-half-inch guns, designed to get just inside the limit of the 10,000-ton class mounting eight-inch guns. A conference such as the present London gathering should be guided by the spirit of an agreement rather than the exact text.

A fourth pair of twins was born to a young couple out in Huntington, Indiana, this week, but no doubt by this time the father has become accustomed to seeing double and doesn't mind it so much.

Despite the fact that the two attending physicians were exonerated by a coroner's jury, which returned a verdict that a towel sixteen inches wide and twenty-eight inches long, left inside an Edmonston, Alberta, woman following an operation January 26 caused her death three days later, it's hard to escape the suspicion that somebody came mighty near being a bit careless.

The British are said to see in American talkies a peril to British speech. Admittedly some of the talkie stuff can hardly serve to enrich the English language, but even at that it's hard to see where it can do material harm to the English generally spoken in Britain. It might even serve to work improvement.

A number of the senate dries approved the selection of Jacob D. Walters, of Connecticut, nominated for United States marshal despite the fact that Walters is not a dry, evidently figuring that a real man who is not a dry, but believes in law enforcement, is better than a dry who does not come up to the other specifications.

For Rescuing Submarine Crews.

The very successful test undergone by the O'Rourke diving-bell, by the use of which two men left the submarine E-4 as it rested on the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico off Key West, sixty-eight feet below the surface, and were hoisted aboard the Falcon, while two of the Falcon's crew at the same time entered the submarine, in themselves marked an immense stride in the development of means by which the crew of a disabled undersea vessel may be rescued. But this test, successful as it was, may be taken as merely preliminaries to many much more severe tests to follow it.

It may be recalled that the testing of the mechanical "lung" for use in escaping from sunken submarines was begun in southern waters, last year, at about the same depth as this initial test of the O'Rourke device and continued from time to time until it had been successfully used at a depth of 210 feet without any assistance from the outside whatever. It is no secret that the navy proposes to follow the same plan with this diving bell, and it is said to be expectation of the navy people that a depth far in excess of that in which the "lungs" were successfully used will be attained.

If this expectation is realized, if even a considerable extra depth is overcome it will mean much for the safety of the crews of submarines, for it is seldom in time of peace that an undersea vessel suffers accident resulting in its sinking far out at sea. We can not recall a case where an American submarine has been disabled other than in comparatively shallow water, as sea depths go, near to land. If the O'Rourke diving bell proves all that is expected of it in depths of 250 feet or such a matter, the rescue of a crew held captive in a sunken submarine will depend chiefly on the elements of time and weather, on whether or no a rescue ship equipped with one or more of such bells will be able to reach the disabled vessel before the crew succumbs and the weather is such as to permit of rescue operations.

Lead in Air Transport Operation.

As indicated by figures given out by the aeronautical bureau of the department of commerce in Washington, several weeks ago and presented at that time in these columns, the report of the Aeronautical chamber of commerce on air operations for 1926 shows that the United States has taken first place in world air transport operations with a total of 197,516,399 miles flown during the year. Civilian and commercial flying represented more than three-fourths of this enormous total, the exact figures being 147,575,451 miles for the former and 49,940,948 for military and governmental air activities.

With the major air transport lines operating on regular schedules in the carriage of passengers, mail and express and flying over 39,000 miles daily, the volume of mail carried increased to 7,959,938 pounds, more than double that of 1925, while the 146,263 passengers were more than three times the number carried two years ago. The average rate, it may be said, was 16.3 cents a mile during 1926, an average which has since been cut to an average of 7.5 cents.

The figures on miles flown and passengers carried does not include, of course, the outside service of something like 300 operators, estimated by the chamber to have flown 184,336,560 miles and carried 2,955,339 passengers. Civilian flying increased, the report states, from 12,960,000 in 1925 to 25,000,000 miles in 1926. This increase in the number of private planes in use is not given, but the planes in scheduled service jumped during the year from 234 to 619.

The immense increase in mail flying without anything like a corresponding increase in airway mileage may be attributed to the great increase in night flying. It is an interesting fact that one American line had greater night-flying mileage than the scheduled night mileage of all European lines combined. In this connection, the report shows that scheduled transport lines did one-third of their 90,000 miles of daily flying over lighted airways between dusk and dawn, a night service without parallel in all the world.

The immense increase in the air transport business of last year over that of the year before shows how rapidly we, as a people, are becoming air-minded. A few years ago, air travel was undertaken as a novelty; today it is accepted by thousands as a commonplace matter. And so even in a greater degree it is with the air mail. In the early days of the air mail, the average recipient of a letter by air mail considered it as something out of the ordinary. Today the use of the air mail has become so comparatively general that it has become recognized as something in the way of a business necessity. It is like scores of other developments of the twentieth century, the novelty of yesterday has become the necessity of today.

It is a matter for regret that the news cameramen could not have foregone showing the pitiful condition of former Chief Justice Taft as he was hoisted from his automobile at his home on his return to Washington from the South. Consideration for one who has filled the high places of honor he has should have precluded showing him in his dire physical extremity.

The liquor business of Quebec province, last year, amounted to $27,007,450, the net profit on which was $3,043,752, to which a total of $1,814,515 was added from seizures. It's going to be mighty hard for Canada to question our friendship for her in the face of patronage such as that.

HIS COMMANDING POSITION.

Build Strong Lungs for Health.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
There is a story about a young girl that I want to tell you. Between the ages of three and eight, this young girl had pneumonia five times. It hardly seems true that this could have been, and yet, she did and the girl is very much alive today.

The secret of it is that she has good sense, and a good will to live and do.

During her first years of school, she had to fight constantly to keep in health. Her lungs were very weak, she took cold at the slightest exposure. She had to be extremely careful every time she went out-of-doors in the cold. She was weak and had little appetite for food.

Her doctor inquired into some health rules for her. With the help of her mother and family, she went to work with a will, to fight for good health. Her doctor wanted her to live in the country, but this was impossible. But even in the city she found plenty of fresh air because she remained out-of-doors a great deal. Plenty of fresh air and sunshine was what the doctor said she must have.

She gave her cold liver oil. Raw eggs and milk every day—these had to be taken, too.

Six months after beginning this program she ate like a normal person. Plenty of rest and sunlight and sleeping with all her windows open at night built up her resistance to disease. Walking all that she was able soon brought back a normal appetite.

For five years she tried every health rule her doctor proposed, and, as a consequence, she made herself into a different person. Well-nourished, with a good color and a marvelous, buoyant feeling, she could go out into the coldest weather and not feel it. She never has a cold. Her lungs are strong once more, and she has determined never to have pneumonia again.

No one of us can afford to neglect the best of care of the health. We can not afford to be careless and let our good sense run away when it comes to keeping well.

If you have weak lungs, or if you feel your resistance is low, if you take cold easily and are generally below par, then follow some good health rules similar to these. Talk with your doctor and set his advice before some disease attacks you. Good food, fresh air, sunshine, bodily exercise daily, good refreshing sleep, will enable nature to do her good work and effect a cure.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

MRS. E. E. Z. Q.—Is brain good for children troubled with constipation? Are raw carrots and peas good for young children?
A—Yes, in moderation. Give the child more fruit and green vegetables if there is tendency to constipation. Yes, the carrots may be grated, but I would advise cooking the peas.

THANK YOU. Q.—Is it possible to have diseased tonsils without having swelling?
A—Yes. See a throat specialist for careful examination and advice.

J. K. Q.—What would you advise for an extremely nervous condition in a young boy, accompanied by shaking of the head?
A—He should have proper medical attention as he may have St. Vitus' dance caused by a nerve disturbance. Your doctor will advise you.—Copyright, 1936, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Dinner Stories.

"Can't we do something to keep this mysterious animal from prowling around at night?"
"I'll go as far as I can," answered Senator Sorghum. "It may not make any more difference than others of my efforts. But I'll introduce a bill making it strictly illegal for any animal to prow! excepting in the daytime."

"It is always best to utter words of hope and cheer."
"Yes," answered Mr. Dustin Star. "I know of several market hipsters who have managed to knock out a pretty good living just that way."

Editorial Opinion.

THE HAZERS HAZED.

Really, the senators who have undertaken to haze Mr. Grundy as a newcomer is the upper house of congress ought now to realize that he is not an easy mark. One of them on Saturday sought to embarrass him by bringing forth a speech delivered by the Pennsylvania some months ago in the course of which he inferentially criticized the president. Others took up the ball and kept it back and forth for a time. The senate paused in its consideration of the resolution for the provision of an inquiry into Haitian conditions for this digression, paused for the better part of an hour. Meanwhile the junior senator from Pennsylvania, object of the persistence, sat imperturbably in his place and listened. When it was all over he arose and in one minute made the preceding altogether ridiculous. What he said may be considered as a bit "maiden speech" in the senate. If its brevity may be regarded as an index to future vocal performances Mr. Grundy qualifies for a very worth-while senator, from the point of view of the public. This speech disqualifies him, however, in the light of the tradition that the upper house is prolix and tireless in discussion.

What Mr. Grundy said on Saturday was so directly to the point of a matter that is just now quite prominent in the public thought that there is every likelihood that he will have forth for the remainder of his service in the senate be an object of keen interest to visitors. He will be pointed out to them as the new man who dared to chastise his critics and confined himself to less than 150 words in so doing. There was something almost draconian in its directness. Judged from the standpoint of the orator it was not a brilliant performance. But somehow, by dint of definite application, it gained more notice than a longer, more brilliant, flow of speech.

The senate is now considering the tariff bill, which has been before it for more than three months. It pauses every now and then—mostly now—to talk over things, very much after the fashion of a day will bring forth in the way of digression. To tell an inquirer that the tariff under discussion in the senate is not necessarily to discourage him from attending in the hope of diversion. Everything under the sun is meat for the oratorical eagle. Now comes Mr. Grundy, baited for an hour, and tells the senate: "This exhibition certainly ought to be notice to every right-thinking person in the United States as to the character of discussion which is occupying the time and attention of some members of the senate to the exclusion of important problems which are now confronting the country."

Appropriately, this closed the discussion. There was nothing more to be said. A vote was taken on the pending amendment and the senate went on to debate the Haitian question on its merits, as it were. And that was that, and today Mr. Grundy wears a halo that is distinctly visible to the citizens at large, though perhaps not to his colleagues.—Washington Star.

IS MOSCOW A COUNTERFEITER?

The statement of Basilus Sadachierschill, a defendant in a counterfeiting case in a criminal court in Berlin, that the soviet government has forged American, British and continental paper money, is quite in line with early stories regarding the money-making activities in Moscow.

The testimony of the Berlin court witness, however, mentions dates which indicate that a practice supposed to have been prevalent in the earlier, more radical days of the soviet regime never has ceased; but on the contrary has been perpetuated as a regular policy. Sadachierschill said that as late as last year a great many of the forged American and British notes were sent to Moscow for General Feng, and to Irkutsk to be used in Siberia and the Far East. He charged that Moscow even tried to circulate counterfeiters in London.

Undoubtedly the communist government will deny that it has been guilty of such actions, but they ought to be susceptible of proof if they actually have been performed; and it will be worth the while of the civilized world to get the facts beyond possibility of doubt. If the charge is proven, no prudent power will have room for doubt about what ought to be done regarding the question of diplomatic intercourse with the bolshevik capital.—Detroit Free Press.

The Danube and Budapest.

BY TEMPLE MANNING.

Many things were changed by the war, it is true, but there are some things which can not be changed, even by an event as experienced as cataclysmic as a World war. One of them is human nature and we who like to travel over the world watching nature in its various aspects, should thank the benign providence which has ordained that human nature remain the same throughout generations after generations.

The Hungarians suffered during the war. They found themselves, at the armistice, facing new conditions and new emergencies. Their territory had been whittled away, there were new neighbors, new international conditions, which they had to adjust themselves. But they had only to adjust—they did not have to change, they could not change their nature. And so we come, by a rather circuitous route, to Budapest, one of Europe's most charming cities. Budapest on the Danube, where the old Hungarian nature remains as it was before the war, as it has been for decades and generations.

Let us suppose that we have been visiting in Vienna. We have stepped aboard one of the boats which ply the waters of the Danube, the boat has cast off and we are sailing along toward Budapest. It seems quite appropriate that there should float up to us from the boat's little orchestra, the strains of a Strauss waltz, for it is his most famous the "Blue Danube."

Along the shores of the river are castles perched atop hills—hills from which, in the olden days, the feudal lords could keep a sharp lookout for rival barons. Then there are little native villages, their houses roofed in red, clustering around the churches with their grotesque towers. From the banks of the river small boats push out. They are ferries for the inhabitants of these small hamlets.

Up and down the river passes a strange procession. There are boats of all sorts. Boats from strange ports in the Balkans. And you sit there on the deck and dream. Evening brings you to Budapest with its six bridges across the Danube, its strange combination of architecture, its underdone of the Orient, its mysticism and charm.

Originally, Budapest was two cities, Buda and Pest. One lies on one side of the Danube and the other is directly across the river. Buda was one time an old Roman colony, made famous by its natural sulphur bath. Pest was a flourishing German settlement until it was destroyed by the Mongols in the early part of the thirteenth century. It was not until 1812 that the two cities were joined and still another twenty years passed before it became the royal residence of the rulers of Hungary.

You have arrived at Budapest. The hotels are grouped along the banks of the river—most of the larger ones being in Pest. There is little chance to visit around today, so we shall go to our hotel.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

New York, Feb. 4.—Every day in New York has its quota of eccentric people who do not dine according to custom, are persons of prominence, others are known and still others are those who by some freakish vagary.

In a Park avenue cafe on Thursday evening of each week a gentleman in full evening dress occupies a table for two alone. Many years it was his custom to dine on that special evening with his wife, died tragically in a sea disaster and the way of showing he has not forgotten.

The dinner of a famous portrait painter never varies. He is at the same table in one of the best known restaurants, the waiter brings him a hot pot of soup, a plain lettuce salad and three raw crackers. His tip is always a silver coin.

Wall Street has an eccentric who orders glass of milk each noonday and takes from pocket a sandwich made at home and eats in oil paper. He makes no effort to hide his whim. And why should he? He happens to own the building which houses the restaurant.

Perhaps the most consistent hotel-dinner-room is the guest of an eccentric who has every night he has been to town for the past five years entertained six to twenty people. His restaurant, it is said to total more than $300 yearly.

A doddering old fellow toddles in high priced cafe on Fifty-Seventh street daily, orders lavishly, leaves a dime for waiter and gravely hands the cashier five cents for his meal. He has no patience with modern prices and his son arranges him to eat there, paying the huge difference on the spot.

But the most unusual diner of all novelist who on intervals like a madman at his place, fish another, the mad still another and so on through salad, de and coffee. He walks from place to place sometimes spending two or three hours in culinary caprice.

I am told Thomas A. Edison has, so far as procurable, every article that ever appeared about him in print. They are in perfectly indexed files and fill a room.

Mr. Edison enjoys publicity—as who not—and admits it. He reports constantly in contrast with the shrinking type professes to shun publicity but who is the most approachable of all. He is the who never lets you get away without latest photograph and a mimeographed biography.

One of the easiest and most agreeable men of importance to interview was late Chauncey Depew. He knew the translating dull questions into bright. Among other things, in his last interview attributed his old age to the fact that he suffered from two incurable diseases of his life, which was true.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

A Newark man worked fifty years for a concern. In that time he missed by days—one day to attend the funeral mother and one to attend the funeral wife. Although he has been retired for pay he prefers to work—for the same reason. There is no finer quality than faithfulness to a job, but there is a thing as becoming a slave to routine who sees only his job and the road from his office, who never takes a vacation, who never gets a rest, who works a distance and from new angle, is full of two things; he is in danger of becoming so much a slave to routine that he can be happy in any other circumstances, is in danger of getting into such a state that he makes no progress in his slavery to routine may kill ambition.

As John Erskine says in Collier's, he hears persons referring, casually to an orchestra or to a speaker who has been within a thousand miles of their home wider and more frequently contact with and speakers must surely have a pron effect on the rank and file of the people means for the communication of those ideas are increasingly marvelous. The idea now is to bring the quality of the up to such a level that all of this emotion and information and inspiration contribute to making a better and idealistic citizenship.

Former President Coolidge talks as usual when he gives the individual A credit for the progress which the A has enjoyed in its economic life. It is not believe that any trick ideas of moment such as socialism or communism do for the country what earnest, old traditional effort will do. It is more completely demonstrates the ad the people under our system to take themselves. The advocates of defection often asserted that the only economic spirit in the American has constantly that the private ownership of property sovereign right and he is able to do of his own destiny.

The suggestion that the word "sp" be cut out of the reports of speeches in congress and printed in the Congressional Record is a good idea. Too many are made by congressmen for no other purpose than to accumulate some applause may come to the attention of the voter house.

Galli-Curci To Make Second Radio Appearance In WEAJ Net Program

Noted Soprano Guest Artist In Victor Broadcast Thursday Night

AMELIA GALLI-CURCI, soprano of worldwide fame, will be the guest artist on the Victor program to be broadcast at 10 o'clock Thursday night over the WEAJ network. Galli-Curci has been heard on the air but once, when she sang on a Victor program more than two years ago. In the meantime, her career has been a constant success and her frequent appearances in opera have kept her from the microphone.

Galli-Curci is an Italian by birth and training, but is something of a cosmopolitan by nature. When she first came to this country her arrival was completely unheralded. Her debut with the Chicago Opera Company in 1910, was a triumph such as has been rarely experienced in recent times. As soon as her operatic engagements permitted she visited other important music centers in America, where she was received with equal acclaim. Not until 1918 did she make her formal debut in opera in New York. Her singing at once created the wildest enthusiasm and her conquest of the United States was complete.

The program which Galli-Curci has selected for the broadcast given full play to the beauty and flexibility of her voice. Accompanying the singer and playing several selections of his own will be the Italian orchestra under the direction of two famous conductors, Nathaniel Shilkret and Bourdon. Mr. Bourdon will conduct the orchestral accompaniments to the star's solos, while Mr. Shilkret will take the helm for a group of vocal compositions.

Little Mouse Valley Town Has French Birth Record

PARIS—The Mouse Valley town of Erain today holds the family honors for France. In 1929, there were 212 children born in Erain, a town of only 2,000 inhabitants. Deaths were 41 and marriages 8.

The high birth rate and splendid health of the babies is attributed to the work of "Goutre des Rorceaux," a clinic for mothers and children founded and directed by Canadians. Of the 212 children, 198 were born in this clinic.

The Canadian clinic gives medical advice and financial aid, and follows the course of the child's health after birth.

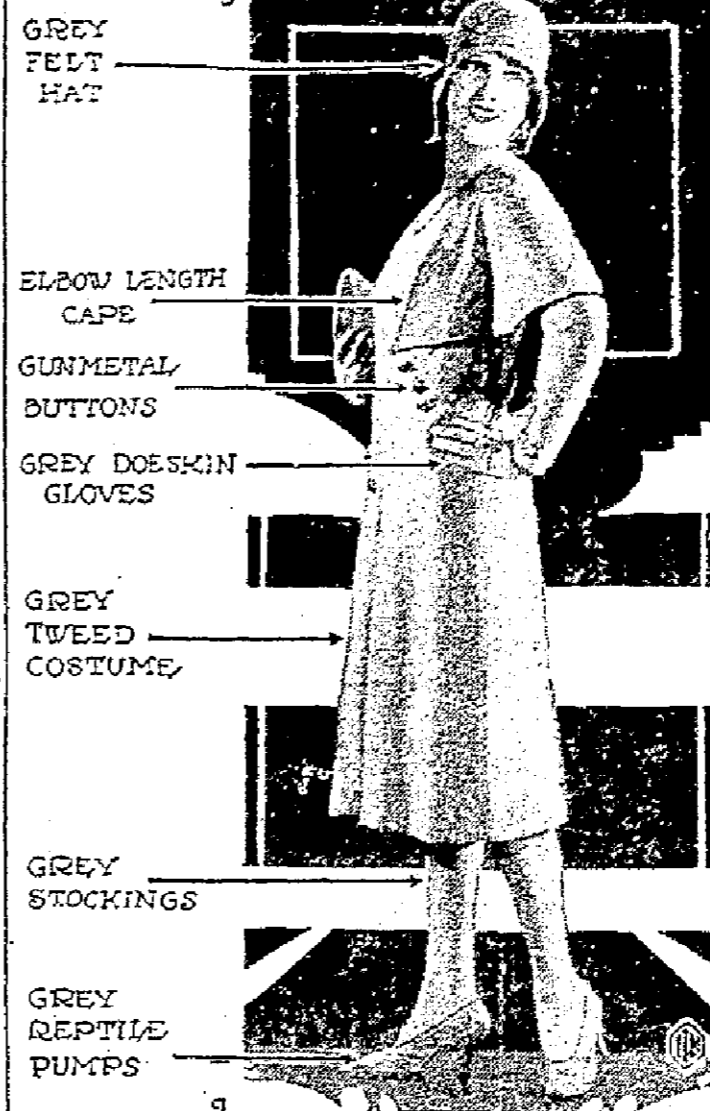

Southwest Company Has Most Trimotored Planes

TULSA, Okla.—With the delivery of six new Ford tri-motored airplanes, purchased recently, the Southwest Air Express airlines of Tulsa will be the world's largest tri-motored air fleet operator. It is believed.

The six new planes will give the Southwest Air Express airlines a total of 16 planes, one more than the merged Transcontinental Air Transport and Madax airlines fleet.

It was hinted by officials of the Southwest airlines that a Dallas-St. Louis non-stop airline was being contemplated.

STREET ATTIRE FOR SPRING DAYS

NOVEL AIRSHIP SAFE IN STORMS INVENTED

Craft Carries New Type Generator; Can Land Without Crew

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 5.—A propelling the off-dreamed perpetual motion machine and a veritable haven of safety in a storm, the "Edwards Hydro-Dirigible," invention of V. L. Edwards, a Springfield man, is attracting the attention of aerial experts from all parts of the country. Perhaps the two most unusual features of the new airship, which the inventor states he believes will be a great success, are a new type container and the supposed ability of the airship to land at any given spot without the aid of a landing crew.

Edwards claims the ship can be constructed to any given size, so that it will carry from two to any number of passengers or any amount of freight.

Odd Looking Ship
The ship, in general, resembles greatly a bunch of asparagus tied together with looped strings. Ten gas containers, filled with helium gas, provide the lifting power. There is ample space between these and between these metal gas containers is a circular space running the length of the ship.

Exactly fitting this circular opening in the front of the ship is the first motor driven propeller. Some space back of this is another motor driven propeller. Back of these two propellers are a series of four propellers, mounted on a shaft with no connection to the engines of the craft. However, when the two motor driven propellers are running these motorless propellers whirl around at a speed that, at least to the uninitiated, seems to approach that of the two fore propellers.

To these motorless propellers, Edwards has attached a dynamo and the power thus generated creates in the light and heat the ship from the waste power of the motors.

Another feature of the ship, Edwards claims is that it can head into the most severe wind storm safely. The front propeller pushes the ship into the teeth of the gale. The rear motor driven propeller, led by air which would, the inventor claims, rush in between the metal gas containers, aided by the spinning motorless propellers would chop up the storm and force it out the rear of the ship.

Two Stabilizers
On each side and on the top of the ship are stabilizers, shaped like the three sides of a square. These stabilizers would not just the same as a wing three times as wide as one side of the stabilizer.

The cabin is located at the bottom of the ship and is so arranged that the ship can land on water and automatically pick up water ballast.

Beneath the ship is another propeller which can either be used in rising or landing.

Two rudders at the rear either raise or lower or swing from side to side the ship's nose.

Edwards has secured a patent on his craft in the United States, and patents are pending in Germany, England, Canada, France, Mexico.
